

What is Stay Curious: DIY?

Libraries are places to ignite curiosity. Our adult summer learning program, Stay Curious: DIY, will encourage you to use the Library as a place to learn new skills that will enrich your life. Find the Dewey section(s) that interest you and make this summer a hands-on experience.

What is "Dewey"?

The Longmont Library uses the Dewey Decimal Classification System developed by Librarian Melville Dewey (1851-1931) to organize our non-fiction collections. Materials are assigned call numbers that relates to their subject matter. Materials that deal with the same subject will have similar numbers.

How do I participate?

Your library card can help you learn a new skill, empower yourself and could even save you money. Check out materials, take online classes, attend our DIY workshops and visit the DIY Fair on August 15 to get the most out of our collection this summer!

Longmont Library Hosts a U-Fix-It Clinic

Saturday August 15 10 am—1 pm

Bring in a broken small appliance, electronic game, power tool or a torn garment and get hands on help from Tinkermill coaches on how to repair it. Learn a new skill, save money and keep junk out of the landfill! A toolbox and supplies for each workstation will be available, but participants should also bring any parts or tools that might be helpful for the repair.

Go to www.boulderfixitclinic.org to select a time slot and enter your name and the item you plan to bring.

The Boulder U-Fix-It Clinic is sponsored by Eco-Cycle. Zero Waste Funding provided by the Boulder County Resource Conservation Division.

The clinic will be held at the Creation Station located at 519 4th Ave. in Longmont.
